

AN ASSESSMENT OF WRATH - V8-15

THE MOTIVATION-V8-11

Lord, were you angry at the rivers, or were you angry at the streams? Were you angry with the sea when you rode your horses and chariots of victory? You uncovered your bow and commanded many arrows to be brought to you. Selah You split the earth with rivers.

The mountains saw you and shook with fear. The rushing water flowed. The sea made a loud noise, and its waves rose high.

The sun and moon stood still in the sky; they stopped when they saw the flash of your flying arrows and the gleam of your shining spear.

THE MOMENTUM -V-12-15

In anger you marched on the earth; in anger you punished the nations.

You came out to save your people, to save your chosen one. You crushed the leader of the wicked ones and took everything he had, from head to toe. Selah

With the enemy's own spear you stabbed the leader of his army. His soldiers rushed out like a storm to scatter us. They were happy as they were robbing the poor people in secret.

But you marched through the sea with your horses, stirring the great waters

GOD, YOU ARE AWESOME!

AN AFFIRMATION OF WORKS - V3-7

HIS ANALOGY
- V4-5

He is like a bright light. Rays of light shine from his hand, and there he hides his power.

Sickness goes before him, and disease follows
behind him.

HIS APPEARANCE - V3

God is coming from Teman; the Holy One comes from Mount Paran. Selah His glory covers the skies, and his praise fills the earth.

HIS ASSESSMENT - V6-7

He stands and shakes
the earth. He looks,
and the nations shake with fear. The mountains,
which stood for ages, break into pieces; the old
hills fall down.
God has always done this.

I saw that the tents of Cushan
were in trouble
and that the
tents of Midian
trembled.
